NOTES AND QUERIES.

Has the curious reader examined the fourth page of the APPEAL to learn who is registered for the oncoming municipal election! Look, oh constituent citizen and learn who is who. It is the key to all such small button-holing as may be deemed necessary to the short campaign now before us. Also it is a brief census and di- whose brevity in point of numbers utustrates the apathy of the times. Politics have gone asleep and office seeking no more afflicts the mind with the eruptiveness and irritability of a small ambition. Go and be a candidate . . . Jonas Seely was in the city on Sunday. For a year and a half he has been an invalid resident of San Jose. Now he comes back to Nevada well and sound. We never saw him look so well before. It testifies to his robustitude when we remark that he was accompanied by Charley Vangorder. And Vangorder, he too looks rugged and as if his appetite were holding out. ... Hon. Ben. Edson was in the city yesterday. He reports the Genoese greatly pleased with the visit of Bishop Whittaker and Parson Kelly. By the way, the Parson has been very constant in his preachments to the good people of Genoa these many Sundays gone. They are beginning to wish they were able to build themselves a snug little church, but say they are most too poor. But they will doubt less get the project under headway one of these bright days-for they are a plucky people are Brother Pratt's faithful patrons Charley Flanders, who is now living in California and carrying on river driving operations on the Mokelumne, was in the city yesterday. He has lost nothing of his sturdy vigor during his absence..... At Fox's are the current numbers of Harper's Weekly. Almost Nast's best is his cartoon on the front page. It represents Uncle Sam holding down the artist, Nast himself, who is impatient to employ his pencil in illustrating the follies of Hayes's policy. Tom looks as if he were very impatient under the restraint-as we have no

FINE STALLION FOR SALE. - Elsewhere is an advertisement of a finely bred stallion for sale. This horse is described as of the "Signal" breed, sound in all respects, and sixteen hands high. He can be seen at Keyser & the minds of our legislators may be prepared Elrod's stable—the old Winnie & David to act intelligently and decisively when the

AT THE LAKE.

Not the balmiest day in midsummer could be more beautiful at Lake Tahoe than was the sunshine and the calm of last Friday. We went the best way of going-with Hank Monk as the chief engineer of one of Benton's best four-in-hands. The very generous owners of "The Meteor" let us enjoy an afternoon's sail in that speediest and most beautifully modeled of steamers. Nothing can surpass her beauty and her ready capacity for swift sailing. She was built by Booth & Co. of Marysville, upon Mr. Eckert's model, is an iron hull, from stem to stern and is moved by a propeller. Over at Yank's we found the wild strawberries in bloom. The old man himself is as full of projects as ever, and at present is busy with his new enterprise of a trout-breeding establishment. The lovely sward fronting the house is green, and the birds have come to revisit their old haunts. The cascade at Emerald Bay is more magnificent than ever—the volume of water being | DRY GOODS, much larger than it is later in the year. An old tar who used to be employed about Benton's stable is keeping the place and acting as watchman. Off the headlands of the Bay is where the fishermen troll for trout. There is no hotel open at the Glenbrook; but an excellent meal may be had at Mr. Towle's restaurant which is near by the Narrow Gauge R. R. Company's machine shop. At Yerington Bliss & Co's, saw mill the big logs are being converted into boards and timbers. There is but one engine in use on the N. G. but it is expected that the road will be occupied to its full capacity very soon. We note that the big Clear Creek flume is busy bringing down cord-wood. A pile driver is setting piles for Buck Davis's new store.

A People's Ticker. -Elsewhere appears a People's Ticket for municipal officers. It was put into the hands of the APPEAL printers by a well known Democrat—so there is no Radical bulldozing about it. The ticket meets with our cordial support. We do not believe there is any man in Carson so well fitted for the position of Trustee at large as Deacon Rice. And that's just what the aforesaid Democrat said. The Deacon has had the largest kind of an experience in our home affairs and we are for electing him anyhow, Mr. Dunning, the gentleman named for the First Ward is a thorough-going business man and though he lacks the Aldermanic development in front has the timber for making a most acceptable City Father. Mr. D. A. Bender is one of the best business men in this end of Nevada. He has been of excellent service in the Board of Town Trustees. We are for continuing him there, for we know we cannot do any better. So that's our ticket, and we do not doubt it will be

May Day. -We learn from some of the little foll that there is going to be a pic-nic of the puttic school children this afternoon. They will go to some of the fields West of the city and there set up their May-pole, elect their Queen, dance their dances, devour their sandwiches and their cookies, play their kissing games and do their happiest to celebrate the day. Two hundred and odd years ago when the months were kept by an old fashioned calender, what is now the First was then the Tenth of May; and it was doubtless celebrated as the first day of summer. Hence the joy of the occasion. If there is any programme for to-days fun we do

At the Episcopal Church on Sunday morning Mr. Foote preached a very acceptable sermon from Iasiah xxviii, 10: "For precept must be upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, here a little, and there The preacher applied his text to the need of a constant and unvarying discipline of religious observance. It is to their culture and training that they who are educated owe their habits of thought and their knowledge of books. The daily life and the habitual resort to prayer are indispensable to the Christian's work and walk. With many apt and excellent illustrations the preacher emphasized the applicability of his text.

TROUT BREEDING IN LANDER COUNTY. -The Reveille of April 28 records an instance of successful fish culture, as follows:

The most successful case of fish culture in this section is that of Daniel Callahan, the well-known rancher of Grass valley. Last evening Mr. Callahan brought into town as a present to some friends a mess of brook trout, taken from the stream which runs through his ranch. Several years ago he planted brook trout in this stream, and the fish have increased and multiplied till now it fairly teems with them. Nearly every trip he makes to town Mr. Callahan brings in some fish, and frequently invites his friends to visit his ranch and angle, which invitations are very readily accepted by those receiving them.

THE INFAMOUS POOL BOX, -There seems to be a general movement by the better class of sporting men against pool selling. The Pacific Life attacks the practice with much vigor. We quote as follows from last Saturday's edition of that paper:

The passage by the New York Legislature of the Bill prohibiting pool-selling on racetracks, marks the beginning of a new and better era in the history of the American turf The pool-box manipulators, and their satellites, cappers, etc., are simply the parasites of the turf, and the time has arrived to stamp them out of existence. It is with gratification that we note that an old and influential sporting journal like the Turf, Field, and Farm has waged a successful campaign against them in the Empire State; but the wholesome reform must not stop there. To make turf events more attractive to the public, we must abolish the pool-box infamy in California. We propose in due season to expose the impudent cheating which is the dominant factor in nearly all race events in California and Nevada, and to do our part in relegating to a deserved obscurity an instrument of such contemptible fraud, that it is to-day by all true lovers of the horse looked upon as a chronic scandal and shame. The Legislature meets next Winter, and we invite interior journals to a discussion of the subject, so that measure is before them,
